CY YOUTH

Every other year, hundreds of youth and "young at heart" from across the country gather at Brock University in St. Catharines, Ontario for a week long adventure, known as Canada Youth. The theme for this year is "Stirred, Not Shaken: Faith Activated." It runs from July 2-7. Travel is arranged and subsidized for all those from our Synod who would like to attend.

While this fantastic event is called "Canada Youth," there is something for everyone. There are four tracks: a Youth Track (grades 9-12), Discipleship Track (university students), Youth Ministry Training Track (for those interested in youth ministry), and brand new this year is the Next Track (a half week event for congregational leaders). Something for everyone!

Also, our provincial Atlantic Missionary Society is generously donating $100 towards each youth's registration for those who would like to go to CY this summer (limited to 10 participants). If you know of anyone who is interested in attending, please contact Nancy Harvey to sign-up for this AMS bursary.

Amanda and I have the wonderful opportunity to serve as the Recreation leaders for this year's event and would love to answer any questions about CY you may have! Plus, it would be great to see you and your young people there! To register for CY, you can visit the CY website - <http://presbyterian.ca/canada-youth-2018/> Sincerely, Chad Bolton

Important Exhibit taking place at Zion Church on June 5, 2018 – 2:00pm to 8:00 pm Special presentation at 7:00pm by Ambassador Marjan Cencen.

The First World War involved 36 countries and the bloody battles at Isonzo between 1915-1917 were marked by the multinational and multi-faith character of the combatants. Among the soldiers of the Austro-Hungarian and Italian armies there were many who were Jewish. The Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria-Hungary regarded them as the most loyal of his troops and, due to the circumstances at that time, the Jews regarded the Emperor as the “Fortress of Tolerance.”

Until the beginning of the First World War only two Jews had reached the rank of General in the Austro-Hungarian army, but during the war another three soldiers were promoted to that rank. Among them was Major General Maximilian von Maendl Bughardt at the Isonzo front.

According to historical estimates, around 300,000 Jewish soldiers fought in the Imperial army of Austro-Hungary in the years 1914-1918. More Jewish soldiers, about half a million, were conscripted into the Imperial Russian Army.

Due to heavy losses among officers in the first year of the war, there was a significant increase in the number of Jewish officers, because they had been enlisted in the reserves. The reserves had an above-average Jewish presence, primarily as a reflection of their higher levels of education, as intellectuals could serve in the Austro-Hungarian army as reserve officers.

According to military statistics it is estimated that around 40,000 Jewish soldiers fell during the First World War, of which about a thousand were officers. This exhibition is an attempt to present the service of Jewish soldiers in the Austro-Hungarian army, during the First World War battle on Slovenian soil.

The exhibit will include photographs and historical information concerning this famous battle and the many sacrifices made in the name of freedom. As an added bonus with this exhibition, the Ambassador to Canada from the Republic of Slovenia – Marjan Cencen, will be in attendance at 7:00pm at Zion Church and will present a brief presentation on the historical significance of this battle and the participation of Jewish soldiers at the time.

This is a unique opportunity to learn about some amazing history and meet the Slovenian Ambassador to Canada. Zion Church is honoured to be hosting this event.
